"The new generation of high-performance luxury sports cruisers"

The Next represents a new generation of high-performance luxury sports cruisers. Entirely built with high-tech composites, its hull, deck and superstructure are designed and manufactured from a blend of carbon fibre, Kevlar and E-glass with vacuum bagged coring. The hull is designed with two ventilated steps and negative pads to optimize water flow to the propellers. The entire aft section of the hull has been designed to accommodate the JDM Special transmissions optimizing performance, comfort and reliability by eliminating all external hydraulic hoses and fittings.

As a result, with just a twin 1000 hp Volvo, the Next will top 48 knots / 55 mph. The interiors are built lightweight with extensive use of carbon fibre, foam-core anti-noise and vibration flooring and a high-tech honeycomb furniture production process by iconic Canados cabinet makers.

2024, this 19.35m / 63'6" yacht is back, now personalised and even more stunning than before, after technical-mechanical and aesthetic improvements and customisations, and will now offer even better sailing, safety and greater comfort. The installation of a gyro stabiliser, the engine room's thermal and acoustic insulation, or the renovation and redistribution of the furnishings are just some of the many upgrades. The modification of the deck with a hydraulic platform, creating a larger and more spacious sundeck for greater enjoyment of the boat, is particularly noteworthy.
